CardXX Partners with Azimyth for Strategic Vision, Advice, and Relationships

ENGLEWOOD, Colo. & BELLEVUE, Wash.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Sept. 13, 2005--CardXX, Inc. (Pink Sheets:CXCQ), a leading provider of advanced electronics packaging solutions, today announced that the Company has entered into a partnership with Azimyth LLC, a technology consulting and solutions provider that delivers integrated infrastructures and architectures for emerging technology ecosystems. "CardXX's unique electronics packaging capabilities will provide a valuable addition to Azimyth's offerings for our Fortune 500, Government, and Global 2000 customers, and will enable Azimyth to deliver Advanced Smart Cards and other advanced 'smart' devices as part of our solutions," said Michael Sandoval, Azimyth CEO. CardXX Chairman, Phil Worack, added, "We are extremely pleased to have this strategic partnership with Azimyth. The experience, advice and reach of their executives should accelerate and expand our ability to inject our emerging technology into accounts."

About CardXX

CardXX provides advanced electronics packaging solutions. The Company has modified and refined Reaction Injection Molding to develop a proprietary Reaction Assisted Molded Process (RAMP) that has been optimized for the secure encapsulation of electronics using low heat and low pressure. CardXX has been awarded patents for the production of Smart Card using RAMP, and has extended their technology to enable production of devices such as Electronic Passports, Contactless Payment devices (e.g. key fobs like the ExxonMobil SpeedPass(TM)), RFID devices, USB Flash Drives, and Advanced Smart Card Platforms that contain components such as batteries, LEDs, LCDs, and keypads. CardXX is partnering with Gusmer Decker to provide RAMP manufacturing equipment and licensing.
